

STUDENT INFORMATION

What is USI?

If you're studying nationally recognised training in Australia from 1 January 2015 you are required to have the Unique Student Identifier (USI)

Your USI links to an online account that contains all your training records and results (transcript) that you have completed from 1 January 2015 onwards. Your results from 2015 will be available in your USI account in 2016.

When applying for a job or enrolling in further study, you will often need to provide your training record and results (transcript). One of the main benefits of the USI is the ability to provide students with easy access to their training records and results (transcript) throughout their life.

What are the benefits of the USI?

A key benefit of your Unique student identifier (USI) is that it will enable the consolidation of information of Nationally Recognised Vocational Education and Training (VET) completed by you after 1 January 2015 onwards. The information is based on the data about your training which is reported by training organisations you have attended, to the National VET Provider Collection managed by the National Centre for Vocational Education Research (NCVER).

Training organisations are required to submit this information to the NCVER at least once a year. From 2016, following the annual data collection, you will be able to access your USI account to view the information on your training online or to generate authenticated or extract printed transcripts, which you can provide to prospective employers. The information you will be able to view will relate only to training you complete it after 1 January 2015 and reported to the in NCVER by training organisations you have attended.
